

Norse Woman Again Supreme on Court, Defeating Miss Wagner, Who Had Scored Over Miss Goss, in Brooklyn

TENNIS CUP GOES TO MISS BJURSTEDT

Norse Girl Defeats Miss Wagner in Heights Casino Final at 6-2, 6-4.

MATCH KEENLY FOUGHT

Losers Play Well Despite Fatigue From Victory Over Miss Goss.

Miss Molla Bjurstedt still is queen of the tennis court. The Swedish girl, who has held the throne since her arrival here five years ago, cleared her domain of a threatening obstacle yesterday afternoon. In the final of the Heights Casino invitation singles in Brooklyn Miss Bjurstedt was returned the victor over Miss Marie Wagner at 6-2, 6-4.

In defending her laurels Miss Bjurstedt displayed the skill, speed, stamina and the courage that only a champion possesses. She went right through the field without faltering. However, the fortunes of the draw were decidedly in her favor. Not so with Miss Wagner. The draw placed Miss Wagner in the difficult position of combating two renowned players within a few hours. At 10:30 yesterday morning she was called to do battle with Miss Eleanor Goss, one of the most skilled and powerful players in the country. From this Miss Wagner emerged victorious, 10-8, 6-2.

To win this match Miss Wagner was compelled to utilize every ounce of skill and speed she possessed and when she left the court she was fatigued to the point of exhaustion. But at 1:45, before she had had time to fully recuperate, she again was summoned to the court. This time to match her skill against Miss Bjurstedt.

Goes Forth Bravely.
Despite the insufficient rest Miss Wagner sallied forth bravely and optimistically. Her spirits were high and her mental condition acute. But she was not at her best physically.

On the other hand, Miss Bjurstedt was at her best. She was fresh and strong. Her two preceding matches of Friday had left no ill effects and she publicly announced that she never was in better condition.

And her playing showed that she was right. Although it wasn't necessary for her to do her best she showed everything she knew about the game. Her rallying and slashing were revelations to the gallery. Miss Wagner held her own at close range and her cross fire drives often gave the Norse girl cause for anxiety, but in the hot exchanges Miss Bjurstedt excelled. Miss Wagner fought through every rally to a finish, but she did not possess the tremendous power of her more colorful opponent.

In gathering points Miss Bjurstedt was superior in both sets. In the first she gathered 35 to Miss Wagner's 27 and in the second 29 to Miss Wagner's 23.

Victor Starts Strongly.
The Norse girl took the first two games of the first set before her opponent seemed able to warm up to her work. But in the third Miss Wagner's cross fire drives from down the angles had the desired effect and she took the game with astonishing ease. The next was replete with stubbornly fought rallies and went to Miss Bjurstedt, but only after she had done her mightiest. The next two Miss Bjurstedt also annexed, and then Miss Wagner rallied and won the set, but in the next the Norse girl won and the set ended at 6-2.

Although both played brilliantly in the second set the result never was in doubt. Miss Wagner started well and took the first game. The Norse girl went to work at a terrific clip in the second game and won it. Then she corralled the third. Miss Wagner took the fourth game and also the fifth. Then Miss Bjurstedt slashed her way through the next three, and after Miss Wagner earned another of the Norse girl's defeat, she was capable of beating Miss Goss, who is No. 3 on the ranking list.

This Match a Stunner.
The contest was a stunner throughout. Miss Goss made her assault at the net. They tried to hit Miss Wagner, but Miss Goss was unable to attack and guard properly at the same time, and her efforts in the grueling first set tired her and in the second set she was no match for her opponent.

After the final had been decided Miss Bjurstedt went back to the court again. This time it was in an exhibition match. She was paired with Frederick Alexander and opposed Mrs. George W. Wrightman of Boston and Harry McNeill, the home "pros." As in the cup competition, she played an excellent game. So did Alexander, and the pair were returned the winners at 6-3, 10-8.

WEST POINT LOSES TO SWARTHMORE

Margin of Lone Point in Last Two Minutes Decides Hot Basketball Game.

CAPT. CRANSTON MISSED

Special Dispatch to The Sun.
West Point, N. Y., Feb. 8.—In a hard and closely played game the Army lost at basketball today to Swarthmore by the margin of a single point. The final score was Army 19, Swarthmore 20.

The contest was won by the collegians in the last two minutes of play, a goal from foul by Benjamin and an accurate fling at the basket by Kemp accounting for three points and the lead.

The game was exciting from the outset. The two teams were evenly matched.

West Point's attack was based on the inside. The Army players were strong in the paint.

Swarthmore's strategy was to keep the game close. They played a tight defense.

The game was a tactical battle. Both teams showed great skill.

In the end, Swarthmore's cool heads prevailed. They made the most of their opportunities.

The victory was a morale booster for the Swarthmore team. They played with confidence.

West Point will be disappointed. They were outplayed in the crucial moments.

The game was a classic example of college basketball. It was fast and furious.

Both teams have a lot to learn from this experience. They will be back on the court soon.

The basketball season is still in full swing. There are many more games to come.

West Point fans will be cheering for a comeback. They believe in their team.

Swarthmore fans are proud of their team's performance. They played with heart.

The game was a testament to the spirit of college sports. It was a great contest.

Both teams deserve credit for their effort. They gave it all on the court.

The game was a highlight of the season. It was a memorable event.

West Point and Swarthmore are both proud of their teams. They are looking forward to the future.

The basketball season is a time of great excitement. It is a time to cheer and to hope.

STEARNS HONOR MAN IN PINEHURST GOLF

Nassau Player Takes St. Valentine Tournament From Parson of Youngstown.

BECKER HEADS NEXT 16

Defeats R. A. Stranahan in Close Match—R. H. Hunt Leads Third Sixteen.

Special Dispatch to The Sun.
PINEHURST, N. C., Feb. 8.—John N. Stearns 3d of the Nassau County Country Club won the St. Valentine tournament here today, defeating Donald Parson of Youngstown by 3 up and 2 to play in the final contest for the president's trophy. The match, which was played on the championship course, was scheduled to go 36 holes but was cut to 18 by agreement.

Stearns started by winning the first two holes and losing the third, but made himself 2 up again at the fifth, which he took under par. He sixth was halved.

Squared at Eighth Hole.
Stearns got into difficulties on the long seventh, taking an 8 for the hole, and the match was squared for the first time when Parson put his drive for the blind eighth green within a couple of feet of the pin and went down in 2. The ninth was halved with both players standing at 42 for the first nine holes.

Then Stearns took the tenth, Parson the eleventh, and they halved the twelfth, leaving the match all even again. Stearns drew away on winning the thirteenth, taking the fourteenth when Parson missed a two foot putt and winning the match at the sixteenth with a conventional par.

The round was played out, Stearns finishing the last nine holes in 39 for an 81. Parson was 88. Neither finalist played up to his usual form, and the contest in the second sixteen between C. L. Becker and R. A. Stranahan was a more interesting affair than the big match.

Becker and Stranahan were squared to the eighth, and then Becker took the ninth with a 3 and made himself 2 up by sinking a putt of over 25 feet for a 4 on the twelfth.

Tin Whistles Are Jubilant.
Stranahan won the fifteenth in 3, but the sixteenth was halved, and all the tin whistles tooted in unison when Becker, the most popular member of the old guard at Pinehurst, clinched the governor's trophy by taking the seventeenth and winning by 2 to 1.

R. H. Hunt of the Worcester Country Club, the only member of the big Massachusetts contingent to come through to the finals, won the governor's trophy in the third sixteen by defeating Dr. J. S. Brown of Montclair by 2 to 1. The summaries:

First Sixteen—John N. Stearns 3d, Nassau, beat Donald Parson, Youngstown, 2 and 2. Beaten Eight—R. F. Mundy, Gary, City, beat F. G. Gaster, Montclair, 3 and 2.

LAUDER AGAIN TO COACH YALE NINE

One Time Giant Will Soon Start Work.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 8.—Billy Lauder, one time baseball star at Columbia and later with the New York Nationals, has been appointed baseball coach of Yale. It was announced today. Lauder already has had many years of experience as coach at Yale.

Yale's baseball candidates will gather next Wednesday and practice will be started soon afterward.

Many of last year's team are expected to report. Among them, besides Lauder, who played center field, are Gordon, Tramm and Massie, who also played in the outfield, and Sawyer and Holmes, second baseman and catcher respectively, and Gallen, pitcher. Tots, Crosby and Gage will also be available, besides T. Sheehan and J. Eastman, both of the 1919 freshman team.

NAVY'S WRESTLERS OUTGAMED LEHIGH'S

Gain Three Falls and Decisions and Lose Only in 125 Pound Class.

Special Dispatch to The Sun.
ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 8.—Through putting up a plucky and skillful fight in every bout, Lehigh lost at wrestling to the Navy in the 125 pound class, 4 to 3. The midshipmen gained three falls and three decisions, while Lehigh's only victory was when Sevier defeated Mayberry in the 125 pound class.

The navy gave much promise, as its team is comparatively green and lacks experience. Its members used the half Nelson in combination with arm, body and scissors holds and were generally more aggressive. Lehigh proved dangerous with a chancery hold. Spofford, Lehigh captain, and Lehigh's special good work for the winners. The summary:
